FRIDAY MORNING AUG 28 1863

Discharged on Habeas Corpus.—We learn from the Mountaineer that Judge Wilson, on Wednesday, discharged M. V. B. Inchenal from custody on the charge of murdering McDaniel, for gross irregularity of proceedings on the part of the committing magistrate. The prisoner was immediately re-arrested and carried back to Canyon City for a second examination, and probable re-commitment, which it is to be hoped will this time be fixed so as to stand fire.

There is too much indifference on the part of the people as to the selection of qualified magistrates, and the consequence has been the necessary release of guilty criminals and enormous bills of cost saddled upon the county concerned to no useful purpose. It is within a short time that a mail robber, of whose guilt there was scarcely room for reasonable doubt, was discharged for similar cause in Douglas county, and the public justice is constantly liable to be cheated of its rights in every part of the State unless more careful intelligence is manifested by those to whom is entrusted the jurisdiction of grave offences. Of the merits of the particular case in Wasco county we know nothing except what is stated in the papers, but our remarks are intended to be general, and to specially suggest and enforce the importance of electing competent Justices of the Peace everywhere.

Politics in North Carolina.—The Raleigh Standard is in favor of a reconstruction of the Union and thinks the probable terms of reconstruction between the North and South will be the adoption of a gradual emancipation system by all the rebellious States, which North Carolina, in common with the other slave States, will accept, if the Federal Government insists upon the same as the only terms that can be granted, notwithstanding the life of the institution is not in the least impaired by this war, as is generally believed at the North. Nothing but a great standing army between the masters and slaves could impair the institution over which is thrown the shield of state and municipal laws, together with the inherent will of the Southern people. Hence these terms are the cheapest the Government can offer, and the best the South can accept.

The Wilmington Journal, an original secession sheet, in speaking of the assembling of the North Carolina Legislature, upon the call of Governor Vance, ostensibly to consider the question of the Confederate currency, charges that other and more important objects occasioned the called session. It bitterly denounces the reconstructionists as intending to use the Legislature as a means of accomplishing other purposes.

The Raleigh State Journal alleges the discovery of a secret political organization, whose purposes are most infamous and treasonable, which doubtless has ramifications throughout the State, and says that developments may swiftly be made which will startle the most apathetic.

Drafting.—The Scripture is opposed to drafting young men just married:

"When a man hath taken a new wife he shall not go to war, neither shall he be charged with any new business; but he shall be free at home one year, and cheer up the wife which he hath taken."—Deuteronomy.

The above, published in yesterday's Times, met the eye of a Peace Democrat of this city, who while he does not like the war, is very anxious that no one drafted, especially a Union man, should escape; he is not married and never will be except by accident and where men are scarce, and when he read the text quoted, he flamed up in great wrath, and asked, "where the d—d Deuteronomy was published, and if it was not some Massachusetts Black Republican paper trying to find a new way to let the Yankees off from doing their share of fighting?" Nobody answered him, and he went off growling.

The Hopelessness of the Rebel Cause.—The Washington Star publishes the following extract from a letter written by a rebel prisoner, now in the Old Capitol, to a friend in the South:

It is a humiliating fact that out of the 700 Confederates captured with me only 300 remain faithful to our Confederacy, the balance of them having taken the oath of allegiance to that detested Yankee Government. Oh how I urged upon those deluded men the [illegible] course they engulfed themselves in [illegible] [illegible] to ruin, but they answered me, "The Confederacy cannot gain her independence; Vicksburg has fallen, and why should I longer waste my [illegible] in a useless undertaking?" 'Tis true, the prospect at present looks dark for the South. The darkest hour always precedes the dawn of light. God grant that it may prove so with our beloved Confederacy! But if it does not—if it is possible for the South to fail—I will never desert her, no, I will [illegible] [illegible] be with those who inflict the terrible punishment upon our treacherous foes.

Paymasters in the Army.—Major Geo Marston, Paymaster U S Army, arrived by the last steamer from the East, and has been directed to pay the troops stationed at Walla Walla, Lapwai and Boise. Major Francis will pay them at the Dalles and at Colville, while Major Winston will, as heretofore, disburse gold and greenbacks to the brave defenders of our rights who are located west of the Cascade mountains.

Copper Mines in Wasco County.—We have been requested to copy this letter from the copper mining regions, which was published in the Dalles Journal:

CANYON CITY, Aug 17, 1863

Your favor of the 10th has been received, and as you desire some information in regard to our copper leads I will state that the Martillat lead assays 60 per cent, and in Portland it has assayed 80 per cent. Then there is the Star lead fully as rich. The Stonewall Jackson lead contains a large per centage of copper and has assayed $13 in silver, to the ton. It was originally discovered by Dr Rice. The Copperhead lead, I have not known of any assays having been made, but it contains copper, silver and gold. The new Helvetia lead, although we have had no assay nor has it been satisfactorily tested, yet it is as rich in copper as the Martillat, and contains silver and gold. The Prairie lead has not been sufficiently prospected to tell much about it. It is a tremendous lead and gives evidence of copper in the croppings, but iron may predominate. The Canyon lead is tolerable rich in sulphate of copper, gives evidence of containing both gold and silver. It is an extensive lead. There are a large number of copper leads in and about this vicinity that are not yet located.

The Silver leads were all discovered last week. Although none of them had been assayed, they have been sufficiently tested to warrant us in saying they contain a large percentage of silver. I will forward you some of the specimens that you may judge what our district contains. The silver leads are known as the Barker lead which resembles exactly the Comstock lead of Washoe, the Mammoth, the Home Ticket, the Fulton and Pioneer leads; we are now prospecting, and, as we go down, they improve in quality.

If we had a railroad to the Dalles, this district would make that place the first town in Oregon. We are unable to tell what we will be able to do with our mines until we find out how to dispose of our mineral. At the present state of our finances we are unable to erect machinery to go systematically to work, although we might be able to put up a temporary concern to run out the black copper, or what is termed regulus, which we could transport in wagons to the Dallas, and from there to Portland, when it could be shipped to New York, Boston or direct to Europe. We could tell better what to do with our silver than we can with the copper, after we have extracted the ore.

There are sufficient capitalists in California anxious to invest, and this District affords better advantages than any part of California, and it is proper that you make it known. Their copper leads yield but 15 per cent and below, whilst our lowest is 50 per cent. No other part of the Pacific coast holds out such inducements, especially [illegible] experienced men and capitalists. Yours, Thos E. Gray

Governor Seymour Rebuked.—The following communication appeared in the New York Tribune of July 21st:

Thousands of law and order men, Democrats and others, have asked themselves this question during the present week: In what speech or writing, public or private, has Gov Seymour denounced the rioters? None. Even when circumstances seemed likely to extort from him a word in reprobation of their secession villainy, he has so far refrained from uttering it. Witness the following incident at the Armory of the Eighth New York State Militia, on Saturday evening, when, in addressing that noble regiment, he said: "I introduce myself to you as the Commander-in-Chief of the military forces of the State, and to thank you, as your Commander-in-Chief, for the alacrity and promptitude with which you flew to the assistance of a sister State in distress and trouble. As your Commander-in-Chief I thank you for the honor you have done the flag of your State. I do not intend to make you a speech, and will only repeat, that, as your Commander-in-Chief, I sincerely thank you for what you have done."

The frequent statement of the fact that "I am your Commander-in-Chief," is worthy of observation, much more so the omission to mention the rebellion, the riot, or the cause of the regiment's being called unexpectedly home. Let loyal men and order loving men ponder.

At the end of his speech the Governor immediately began to retire, but was stopped by the Colonel, who said: "One moment, if you please, Governor. I wish to inform your Excellency, that the men who stand before you left their homes to do what they could in the time of their service to put down this wicked rebellion. They have uncomplainingly borne the fatigues and burdens and dangers of their thirty days' campaign, sometimes for a week together on short rations. They are law-abiding and law-enforcing men, and pledged themselves as they neared the wharf in the accursed city of their homes, not even to see their families until order was restored here and domestic rebellion subdued. The heart of every man of them was throbbing with anxiety to reach this city in time to share in the subjugation of the mob whose atrocities have called them from the field, and they chafed at every delay. They are the men who are at all times ready to fight rebellion in any form, as well in New York as in the South."

This speech and the thundering applause which the regiment gave it, nonplussed our loyal law-abiding Governor [?] who could only make, after the hellish scenes of the week, the silly reply, "I hope their sweethearts and wives will be glad to see them," and retire abashed from the presence of a man speaking for a regiment of men.

The Policy of the Proclamation to be Maintained.—The N. Y. Post says:

On Monday last two gentlemen, residents of this city, had an interview on business with the Secretary of War. The conversation turning upon the Emancipation Proclamation and the chances that there might soon be certain states or some of the insurrectionary states to be admitted into the Union, with slavery, Stanton, with emphasis and action suited to the words, remarked: "When the [illegible] [illegible] which was shed before Port Hudson and Milliken's Bend shall return from the ground to circulate in the veins of living men, then but never till then, by consent or action of mine, shall one freeman emancipated by the President's proclamation be returned to slavery." We had the above from one of the two gentlemen in question—whose name is well known to the public.

Next Wm. Whiting, Solicitor to the War Department, says in a letter to the Fremont Legion, dated July 10th:

The policy of the Government is fixed and firm. [illegible] Congress has passed the irrevocable act of emancipation. The Supreme Court of the United States have unanimously decided that since July 31, 1861, we have been engaged in a territorial civil war, and have full belligerent rights against the inhabitants of the rebellious districts. The President has issued proclamations under his hand and seal. Abraham Lincoln takes no backward step. A man once made free by law cannot be again made a slave. The Government has no power, if it had the will, to do it. Omnipotence alone can re-enslave a free man. Fear not that the Administration will ever take the back track.

An Incident of Southern Life.—A correspondent of the Missouri Democrat, writing from Yazoo City, July 14th, relates the following incidents:

I will relate an incident which occurred this morning, at the expense of a gallant young soldier. He was prospecting about town, when his attention was attracted to a stable of very fine horses. While admiring their fine points he was surprised by the appearance of a very fascinating young lady, as she emerged from another part of the horse house, and bowed politely, and smiled killingly upon him. He stammered out something like an apology for his seeming intrusion, mixing up the words "proclamation" and "confiscation," etc., and ended by asking who was the owner of the place.

"Dr. Neely," replied the lady.

"And you—you are his wife?" said the soldier, doubtingly.

"No," said the lady.

"Then his daughter?"—this was said smilingly.

"No."

"His niece, perhaps?"—endearingly.

"No, no relation that I know of."

"Then a lady friend on a visit?"—puzzlingly.

"No, not that either."

"Well, then, may I be permitted to ask who you are?"

"Certainly," replied the lady, who had enjoyed the soldier's discomfiture with a piquant relish, "I am his slave."

The soldier gave one long, last lingering look, and with a low whistle, skedaddled; but he consoles himself by saying that she would fool anybody.

The Discovery and Seizure of Jeff. Davis' Private Library and Correspondence.—Near Jackson (Miss.) July 12.—Yesterday a company of cavalry, escorting a foraging train, learned from a negro where the extensive library of Jeff Davis was secreted.—They proceeded to the house and there found several thousands of volumes of books, and several bushels of private and political papers of the arch traitor, written by traitors North and traitors South. Some of these papers were brought into camp and served as novel literature for our officers and men. In addition to these several valuable gold headed walking canes were found, one of them presented to Davis by Franklin Pierce; on another one was the inscription, "From a Soldier to a Soldier's Friend." In many of the letters the subject of secession was warmly discussed. Some of these letters date as far back as 1852. Many of the more prominent writers accept the separation of the North and the South as a foregone conclusion, but only disagree as to how and when it should be done. Davis is alluded to as the political Moses in this me as are, and the allusions to him would seem as if he was looked upon in the light of a demigod. I send such of these letters as I have been able to get possession of. If the collection of letters could be arranged and published it would bring to light the secret history of secession and hold up to the world the deepest laid treason ever known on the face of the earth.

Rather Severe.—The Boston Pilot, in referring to the course of the British Consul in that city in giving exemption or protection to those who have declared their intentions of becoming citizens, says:

"The Consul is driving a good business in the way of giving protection where none is required. Any Irishman who would seek protection from the representative of a government that has starved and is starving millions of his countrymen, deserves the execration of his race, and should be held up to public scorn. We do not learn how many have been protected by his Consulship, but the number must be considerable. The fee is three dollars a head."

The Scandinavian Restaurant from this date, 19th August, will be kept open until 1 o'clock in the evening, where WILLIAM BASTION, who is Cook-in-Chief of the Kitchen, will CATER VIANDS to suit the most delicate taste.

MARRIED.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE DAILY OREGONIAN.

LATER FROM THE EAST.

Dates to August 22d.

LOUISVILLE, Aug 21.—Nothing is known positively as to the movements of Burnside's army, except that it is moving in an easterly direction, supposed to be destined for Chattanooga. It is presumed Burnside's movement will act in conjunction with Rosecrans and will sweep through Eastern Tennessee. [illegible] [illegible] army news from Tennessee is forbidden at present.—Nothing will be known until after [illegible] are accomplished. Negro regiments are being rapidly organized in Rosecrans' department. Already five regiments are under way at Nashville, Winchester and Tullahoma.

JACKSON, Miss., Aug 18.—Federal cavalry from Yazoo City reached Durant station on the Mississippi Central railroad, captured a train and did serious damage to the road to the northward. The Yankees are carrying away locomotives and trains northward. A heavy raid is coming South from the Memphis and Charleston road.

LEAVENWORTH, Aug 21.—About 6 o'clock last night the guerrilla chief Quantrell with 300 men crossed from Missouri into Kansas near Gardner, 40 miles below here, and started for Lawrence, arriving there at 4 o'clock this morning, posted guards around the city so no citizen could escape, and the remainder of his command sacked the city, pillaging stores, shooting citizens and firing houses. A gentleman who managed to escape by hiding in a cornfield says he swam the river at 8 o'clock, and on reaching the bluffs on this side, had plain view of the city, which was in flames. He thinks the loss $2,000,000 by this time, much more as they seemed determined to destroy every thing that would burn. We cannot learn that any resistance was made, the people being taken by surprise, the first alarm being the crackling of the flames and the shouts of the rebels. Gen'l James H. Lane was in the city, and it is feared he has fallen into the hands of the guerrillas. A large number of armed troops have been sent in pursuit, but the result is not known. The Mayor of this city has issued a proclamation, saying that the people here need not apprehend danger, but requests every able bodied citizen to provide himself with arms and hold himself in readiness to aid his friends in any part of the State at a moment's notice. He censures the General commanding the district who with 5,000 men under his command, allowed a few hundred guerrillas to go 50 miles into the interior, burn a city and destroy 2,000,000 dollars worth of property. He intimates that the citizens must depend on themselves for the defense of city and State.

Second Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, August 22d.—Late Chattanooga papers have the following: We look for the worst at Charleston. It will never be taken as it stands, however. Journals of that city may put the best face on the matter from motives of patriotism, but we had as well prepare for any emergency.

A correspondent of the Savannah Republican growls considerably at the reconstruction talk of the Raleigh (N. C.) Standard, and says our late reverses have developed a number of cases of weak kneed fellows who are ready to fall down and beg mercy of their Yankee masters.

CINCINNATI, August 22.—Troops continue to pass through the city. News from Burnside is to the 19th. It is now predicted that our advance will engage Buckner in two weeks. The troops are in fine spirits and pushing forward towards Knoxville. From rebel sources comes the prediction of another raid into Kentucky when harvest commences. It is not credited in military circles.

NEW YORK, August 22.—A Washington special says: A letter from an officer in high command in the Army of the Cumberland has been received, which says the whole country between Chattanooga and the Mississippi is full of deserters from Bragg's and Johnston's armies. Dissatisfaction exists mostly among the Louisiana, Mississippi, and Tennessee regiments, who say they have nothing left to fight for. Troops from other States say they will also desert as soon as their States are occupied by Union troops. It is known that one Louisiana and two Mississippi regiments left in a body, there being no force to stop them.

Judge Goodwin, Chief Justice of Arizona, has been appointed Governor of that Territory, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Gurley. It is known in New York that an Arizonian expedition will leave that city in a few days.

WASHINGTON, August 22.—The rebel cavalry are busy enforcing the conscription in Virginia south and west of the Rappahannock. Some districts have been nearly depopulated of able-bodied males. Parties are also scouring the country for provisions and forage. There is already wide spread suffering, and fears are entertained of a famine during the coming winter. Negroes are being run South to keep them from falling into the hands of the Yankee army.

NEW YORK, August 22.—It is officially announced that the Emperor of Austria in an autograph letter, dated July 31st, has invited all the sovereigns of the German Confederation and the Senates of the free cities to personally meet him and discuss the question of the reorganization of the German Confederation suitable to the requirements of the age. The Emperor proposes Frankfort as the place and the 16th of August as the time for meeting.

LOCKED UP AGAIN.—"Scotty," a notorious vagabond and drunkard, was arrested yesterday by Marshal Clark and locked up in jail. This individual was indicted at the last term of the Circuit Court on charge of arson—[illegible] set free to the city jail—but was acquitted on the ground of insanity. He was then sent to the Insane Asylum, from which he escaped to the city, where he has been a great nuisance. We hope he will be safely caged somewhere this time.

MILITARY COMPANY.—In Wednesday morning's issue we mentioned the fact that a military company called the Washington Guards [illegible] have now the names of a number of the citizens of Portland who are forming another company. We sincerely [illegible] that these two companies once organized will go on and perfect themselves in drill. Portland certainly can use two companies, and if a little exertion were made by our citizens she will have them. Go on, gentlemen, in the good begun work, as if old Johnny Bull should raise a row with us you won't be sorry that you have learned to handle a musket, and if "war's alarms" do not disturb us, you won't be hurt. We publish the names alluded to, hoping that it will induce others to join them while the [illegible] marching on:

JUVENILE HONESTY.—"Tommy," said a fond mother to her boy, as he was plunging his fingers into the pudding in presence of a [illegible], much to the mortification of his fond [illegible], "Tommy, why will you behave in such a way? I never saw you do so before in my life." "You lie, marm [illegible] dues, and you know it." Guest smiled and looked out of the window.

GOOD.—We yesterday received from our friend, Columbus Brown, of Marion county, a box of fruit—pears, plums and apples—which was duly appreciated by our types. There was also in the box a beautiful bouquet by our charming little friend, Miss Sarah [illegible], daughter of Mr. Samuel Brown.

DRILLING.—Willamettes No. 1, Columbian No. 3 and [illegible] were out with their engines, and hooks and ladders last even in full force.

A PATRIOTIC WOMAN.—The Albany (N. [illegible]) Evening Journal tells the following:

At Plattsburg, the other day, a man of very great loyal pretensions called on a widow and informed her that her only son was drafted, and then hastened to tell her he could secure his exemption if she would certify that she was a widow, and that he was her only son, and that she was dependent on him for support. The patriotic [illegible] made the following reply: "I can not consent to no such thing. I am not dependent on my son for support, and I never expect to be. Besides I think he ought to go, if he is able to perform military duty, and every able bodied man, till this wicked rebellion is put down. Nothing but the necessity of wearing these skirts has kept me from going."

MOBILE REBELS RUNNING AWAY.—It has been remarked that every boat that leaves [illegible] crowded with passengers. [illegible] It has been observed that the streets of evenings [illegible] quite clear of incipient mustaches and [illegible] Is it the effect of the draft? It is well—children [illegible] cowards are in the way when gun powder [illegible] burning. But would it not be well if some [illegible] would note the wounded patriots who are [illegible] The record would be [illegible] full—after the war. Locked up Again.—"Scotty" a notorious vagabond and drunkard was arrested yesterday by Marshal Clark, and locked up in jail. This individual was indicted at the last term of the Circuit Court on charge of arson—he having set fire to the city jail—but was acquitted on the ground of insanity. He was then sent to the Insane Asylum, from which he escaped to the city, where he has been a great nuisance. We hope he will be safely caged somewhere this time.

Military Company.—In Wednesday morning's issue we mentioned the fact that a military company called the Washington Guards. We have now the names of a number of the citizens of Portland, who are forming another company. We sincerely hope that these two companies once organized will go on and perfect themselves in drill. Portland certainly can raise two companies, and if a little exertion is made by our citizens she will have them. Go on, gentlemen, in the good begun work, and if old Johnny Bull should raise a row with us, you won't be sorry that you have learned to handle a musket, and if "war's dread alarms" do not disturb us, you won't be hurt. We publish the names alluded to, hoping that it will induce others to join them, "while they go marching on."

George T Myers, John McCr[illegible], H Saxer, W W Spald[illegible], James W Going, Jacob Stitzel, Ben L Nordeh, J W Jordan, A J Pierson, Mark A King, A B Richardson, J W[illegible], W Stewart, Varrus Freeman, L M Starr, A J Butler, F G[illegible], Randall, Joseph Buchtel, H H B[illegible]k, Richard B Knott, Chas E Hodgkins, T A Davis, R J [illegible], A J Knott, G F[illegible], Greene, Earl Estes, W S Caldwell, H S Johnston, L [illegible], Grover, H A Oabe, P C Schuyler, [illegible] C Pouer, [illegible], Miner, S J McCormick, Chas Bindon, H L Hornann, John Brewer, G Campbell, H Jones, W Cornell, W R [illegible]des, C Millard, James McKinney, Joseph Wertz, E N O Plum[illegible]mer

Juvenile Honesty.—"Tommy," said a good mother to her boy, as he was plunging his fingers into the pudding in presence of a guest, much to the mortification of his fond parent, "Tommy why will you behave in such a way? I never saw you do so before in my life."

"You lie, marm, I allers does, and you know it."

Guest smiled and looked out of the window.

Good.—We yesterday received from our friend Columbus Brown, of Marion county, a box of fruit—pears, plums and apples—which was duly appreciated by our typos. There was also in the box a beautiful boquet, sent by our charming little friend, Miss Sarah [illegible], daughter of Mr. Samuel Brown.

Drilling.—Willamettes No 1, Columbian No 3 and Vigilance No 1, were out with their machines, and hooks and ladders, last evening in full force.

Painting.—Messrs. Sharkey & Lucas, house, sign and steamboat painters, are prepared to do anything in their line.

Smoke.—A large fire was raging west of the city last night, causing a dense smoke to [illegible].

A Patriotic Woman.—The Albany (N Y) Evening Journal tells the following:

At Plattsburg, the other day, a man of very great loyal pretensions called on a widow and informed her that her only son was drafted, and then hastened to tell her that he could secure his exemption if she would certify that she was a widow and that he was her only son, and that she was dependent on him for support. Besides, I think he ought to go, if he is able to perform military duty, and every other able bodied man, till this wicked rebellion is put down. Nothing but the necessity of wearing these skirts has kept me from going!"

Mobile Rebels Running Away.—It has been remarked that every boat that leaves the city is crowded with passengers. It has also been observed that the streets of evenings are quite clear of incipient mustaches and peachy cheek accompaniments. Is it the proximity of the draft? Those well—children and cowards are in the way when gunpowder is burning. But would it not be well if some one would note the wounded patriots who are streaming thus early? The record would be useful—after the war. The fall of Vicksburg, some very near making some show "their hands—a flush of spades and their [illegible] Johnston holds bullets." Traitors, you are watched and the day is not far distant when you will have to leave—look to it.—Mobile Regis[ter], July 12th.

In Every Age of the World, the professions have been slow to admit the value of new discoveries or the expediency of adopting them into practice. It is not to the legal profession that we look for reforms in jurisprudence, neither do we find the advocates of medical reform among physicians. Each deprecates whatever is found to innovate upon received opinions and established usage. Hence the opposition which medical men too often exhibit to the use of private remedies, whatever their acknowledged value or great efficiency in the cure of disease. No medicine has ever done more for the relief of human suffering than DR OSGOOD'S INDIA CHOLAGOGUE. The certainty with which it cures Fever and Ague and eradicates bile from the system is acknowledged by all. Do you prefer a speedy and effectual cure to a regular and scientific run of disease? Try the Cholagogue, and the object is accomplished. Then tell your suffering neighbor what it has done for you, that it may do the same for him.

For sale everywhere.

The Negro Soldiers.

Judge Bramblette, the Union Governor elect of Kentucky, made a speech during the canvass at Carlisle in that State. The Judge is no abolitionist in any sense, but he talks as follows about the employment of negroes as soldiers:

You object to negro soldiers. Who began this business? Who raised the first negro regiment? Did Lincoln? Don't you know that in the beginning of this strife, in New Orleans, they heralded it abroad that they had already organized two negro regiments to fight with the Yankees? Don't you know that the first act in the Tennessee rebel Legislature was to authorize the organization of free negro regiments? Don't you know it to be a fact, furthermore, that they have regiments of Indians in their service, to tomahawk and scalp our women and children? And yet not one of you here assembled, I will venture to say, have heard these conservative Union gentlemen object to their using negro regiments to fight us with. You never heard one of them object to enlisting Indians against us. Why is it that you have grown so terribly repugnant to negro aid? You are willing it should be employed against us, but now that it is being employed to help us you are terribly disturbed. The reason seems irresistible, that then they were fighting on the side you were anxious should win; but as soon as they are employed against that side you object. [Applause.]

To illustrate the force of this objection, I must tell how a Michigan Captain whom I met answered it. I was passing through Taylor county in a coach with the Captain, when three young ladies entered, two of whom were secessionists. Strange as it may seem, there are some of the fair sex who are indebted, more than any other class, to the Government for protecting their homes and securing the peace and prosperity which heretofore have made it unnecessary for their husbands and sons to be torn from them—who turn against their best friend. And what a change it makes in their character! I care not how beautiful and graceful a lady may have been before, let her abandon the cause of the Union, which embraces all else that is good in society, and from that hour you can notice a most marked change in her countenance and bearing. Her features assume a sinister expression, and her motions a scornful character. It is unnatural for a woman to oppose a Government which protects and succors her husband, her father, her brother, or her lover; and when she does it, her whole nature must undergo a change. Indeed, I can tell a butternut almost as far as I can see one, whether a man or woman. As soon as the ladies got into the coach, they discovered the shoulder straps of the Captain, and they of the butternut persuasion at once betrayed the effect it had upon their character. They refused to sit next him, and plied their perfumed handkerchiefs to their faces, until one of them could contain her indignation no longer, and turning her head contemptuously back, she asked of the Captain:

"What do you think of nigger regiments?"

I had known the lady before, but she would not have thus boldly and sneeringly spoken to a stranger then. The Captain was an educated gentleman, and didn't get offended at the insult, but very pleasantly replied:

"Miss, do you really desire to know my opinion?"

"Yes, I would like to know what you think of them," she answered curtly.

"Well," the Captain replied, "when they first came up I was in Virginia, and was offended at the idea, and perhaps swore a little. I knew then, as I know now, that there were plenty of loyal white men to kill the last secessionist in the United States, and then all that France and England may send in addition, and I didn't want any such help. But since then I have been a considerable time in Virginia, and some time in Kentucky, and have observed this one particular thing in all rebel men and women. They seem to worship the negro; they are willing to give and suffer everything for him. The husband will leave his wife, the father his child; the son will leave his mother and sister, the young man his sweetheart, and all go off to fight for the negro. And the women are willing to give up their husbands to fight for the negro; the sister is willing to give up her brother, and the young lady her betrothed, in order to save the negro. And they tell me, that when all the men are killed that the women themselves will turn out to fight us. Now, when I found this to be the feeling, I thought better of my opposition, and that it would be a wise order calculated to save human life, to bring out the negro regiments; for as all secessionists are so careful and tender of the negro, they would not outrage their feelings and sense of property by fighting them. If we were to place them in the front of our lines of battle, the rebel secessionists would at once throw down their arms in holy horror and abandon the contest!"

The young lady hadn't a word to reply, but only plied her musk the more vehemently; and I concluded the Captain's argument was a sufficient reply to the objection.

Suppose one of you were assaulted by robbers, who threatened to burn your residence and murder your family if you did not give up your money; that your neighbor came rushing to your assistance, and with him one or two stout negroes, with clubs and axes and guns; that while you are engaged in a close hand to hand contest with one of them you should see that brawny negro hewing one of them down, would you say, "Hold on! I don't want any negro to help me! Here, Mr. Robber, I am not going to succeed in driving you off by any such aid as that; you may burn my house and take my property." Is this what any sane man would do? But it is just in this way that Southern sympathizers—Constitutional Union men—talk—They would have us, because the President does not use just such weapons as they think proper, say, "Here Jeff. Davis, take all we have, and slay us as soon as you please; not another man or another dollar can we give till Lincoln quits fighting with these things."

I am for the Constitution framed by Washington and his compeers—those good and great men who were touched with more than human wisdom—at all hazzards and all expense. Are you for it? Alas, I fear you are for the Constitution and Union of the Southern Confederacy; for every means and measure that you object to being used by the Federal Government, you are perfectly willing that the rebel Government should use. You are opposed to the Union being maintained by unconstitutional measures, but you are not unwilling Jeff Davis should fight unconstitutionally, to destroy the Union and the Constitution. This shows where your heart is, better than your former professions of Unionism.
